Recall of Indian Scarves from USA

1511. SHRI GOVINDRAO ADIK: Will the Minister of TEXTILES be pleased to state:

(a) whether it is a fact that the Consumer Product Safety Commission of the United States has asked India to recall 3,75,000 scarves on account of being made on inflammable material;

(b) if so, why such scarves were exported when in the past skirts of such material were returned by the United States;

(c) whether Government had adhered to the inflammability test certificate for these scarves from one of the designated laboratories in India;

(d) If so, whether these scarves had passed the test; if not, reasons for their export; and

(e) whether Government are considering to cancel the name of such exporters in order to avoid bad name for the country?

THE MINISTER OF STATE OF THE MINISTRY OF TEXTILES (SHRI KAMAL NATH): (a) to (e) During 1995, the US Consumer Product Safety Commission, a statutory body, had tested various kinds of rayon apparel items imported from India as a follow up to the measures initiated last year to check the imports of quickly flammable skirts made of 100% sheer rayaon chiffon. The Commission had found that the rayon skirts, blouses and dresses being exported from India were meeting US flammability standards. However, they had found a deficiency in respect of some 100% sheer rayon scarves.

On receipt of this information, the Apparel Export Promotion Council was instructed to give endorsement on the shipping bills of 100% rayon chiffon apparel items being exported to the USA only on production of a flammability test certificate issued by one of the notified laboratories stating that the items conformed to the flammability standards of the importing country.

Government is not contemplating any other action against the exporters whose consignments of sheer rayon scarves had not met the U.S. flammability standards.

In addition, both the States also get their due share from the central sector stations in Northern region.
